HEINNOVATE, A PLATFORM FOR MORE ENTREPRENEURIAL HIGHER EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS

Entrepreneurship is a key ingredient of the economic development recipe in all countries worldwide. Higher education institutions play a central role in this process, by “forming” the future graduates with the application of their entrepreneurial mindset that can contribute to tackling society’s most demanding challenges and grasp the new trends/opportunities for the world of tomorrow.

To boost the entrepreneurial capacity of educators and institutions, a variety of complementary initiatives and tools have been launched for setting favourable framework conditions at the EU level.

entreTime is now glad to announce that it is also hosted on the HEInnovate platform, a joint initiative of the European Commission and OECD to support the Higher Education Institutions in further exploring their entrepreneurial and innovative potential.

With over 23.000 registered users from 1,300 higher education institutions from 80+ countries, offering a full-fledged free online self-reflection tool with 24.000+ completed assessment, peer discussion groups and access to dedicated empowerment resources for stimulating entrepreneurship, the platform aspires to become the reference hub for entrepreneurial educational institutions.

“We are now working on improving the technical infrastructure and the new website will allow access to an even broader range of resources for our users”, said Zsuzsa Jávorka, Managing Consultant at Technopolis Group and project manager of HEInnovate “In the Autumn we will be out with a new look, that will also include the entreTime webpage”.
